FOR RELEASE As soon as possible

An exhibition "Some Contemporary Oriental Artists" opened concurrently with the JAPANESE DECORATIVE STYLE Exhibition at The Cleveland Museum of Art and may be viewed in gallery 12 of the Museum.

The exhibition features the oils and watercolors of Yasuo Kazuki; the oils of Kenzo Okada, Sugai, Walasse Ting, Jiro Yoshihara, Zao Wou-ki; the stone sculpture of Noguchi and the wood sculptures of Sofu Teshigahara.

The show represents the works of both Oriental and Oriental-Western artists, working in Japan, Paris, New York and other places. Most of the 17 objects shown have been loaned by galleries in New York - and are for sale.

The exhbition will remain on view free to the public until October 15th.
